

DAILY BUDGET CHART

| Date | Description | + / - | Amount | Necessary? | TOTAL |
|-------------|--------------------|--------------|---------------|-------------------|--------------|
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |
|             |                    |              |               |                   |              |

You can be a Stay at Home Mom on One Income

Becky Mansfield

WEEKLY BUDGET CHART

Which weeks are you spending more? Why?

| Date | Description | + / - | Amount | TOTAL |
|------|-------------|-------|--------|-------|
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |
|      |             |       |        |       |

Highlight the week where you spent the most. Find the reason.
You can be a Stay at Home Mom on One Income      Becky Mansfield

MONTHLY SPENDING CHART

| Date | Description | + / - | Amount | TOTAL |
|-------------|--------------------|--------------|---------------|--------------|
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |
|             |                    |              |               |              |

You can be a Stay at Home Mom on One Income

Becky Mansfield

MONTHLY BILLS

Write the company that you are paying, the amount that you will pay this month, and any outstanding debt or payments to that company.

| Date | Company | Amount | Outstanding Debt |
|-------------|----------------|---------------|-------------------------|
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |
|             |                |               |                         |

You can be a Stay at Home Mom on One Income

Becky Mansfield

SAVINGS VS. DEBT

How much have you saved every month, and how much have you spent?

| MONTH         | SAVINGS | DEBT |
|---------------|---------|------|
| JANUARY       |         |      |
| FEBRUARY      |         |      |
| MARCH         |         |      |
| APRIL         |         |      |
| MAY           |         |      |
| JUNE          |         |      |
| JULY          |         |      |
| AUGUST        |         |      |
| SEPTEMBER     |         |      |
| OCTOBER       |         |      |
| NOVEMBER      |         |      |
| DECEMBER      |         |      |
| TOTAL: |         |      |

You can be a Stay at Home Mom on One Income

Becky Mansfield